

THE SHIFT RETREAT AGREEMENT

Since the beginning of A Whole New High in 2018, we have found that there is a need to create clear rules and guidelines for our guests. The following Terms and Conditions have been designed as a result of our practical experience, and serve to prepare our guests for a positive and safe experience in ceremony and in a retreat as a whole.

The Psilocybin used at our retreats and sessions was locally grown in the form of Truffles in the Netherlands.

The facilitators administering the Psilocybin will use their experience to advise upon and adjust the dose for each participant individually. The effects of Psilocybin may include temporary changes in your perception of reality and way of thinking, visions (of abstract motifs or clearly identifiable images and scenarios), heightened negative and positive emotions, access to detailed memories that you had forgotten, paranormal phenomena, the emergence of fears or difficult emotions which can be processed with the help of one of our experienced practitioners (some of which may be associated with blockages in the body causing pain and tension), introspection, and perinatal or transpersonal experiences (in which you may experience your own death and rebirth).

On a physical level, you may experience nausea, chills, tingling, ringing in the ears, dizziness, tremors, sweating, ataxia, and, in rare cases, fainting. Sometimes, especially if you have not taken Psilocybin before, you may not notice any visionary effects. If that happens, it does not mean the Psilocybin is not having an effect on other levels. It is also possible in rare cases that the psilocybin has no effect at all, again it does not mean the Psilocybin is not having an effect on other levels that you may be unaware of. The Psilocybin experience is not linear, but rather it passes through different phases, some more pleasant, even euphoric, and others more difficult.

Psilocybin works to integrate unresolved aspects from the past that have arisen typically from social conditioning, trauma, emotional loss, neglect, abuse, and general emotional and psychological difficulties. During and after ceremonies it is not uncommon to experience emotional, psychological, and physical discomforts, which are typically symptoms of the healing process as Psilocybin helps you to integrate issues from the past that have been trapped in your system. The facilitators are committed to protecting your physical and emotional security, integrity, and privacy throughout the process, and intend to provide you with the psychological and physical support you need during the preparation phase, the ceremonies themselves and the period afterwards. We have an emergency protocol and commit to provide any necessary support should the need arise.

Your participation in the ceremonies is entirely voluntary and you are free to opt out, if you wish, before the start of the ceremony. If you decide upon opting out of the ceremony refunds or discounts are not offered at this late stage and full participation in the integration parts of the retreat is both encouraged and still very beneficial without journeying with psilocybin, again this decision is at your own discretion. You must follow the instructions of the facilitators at all times so that your safety and the safety of others is not jeopardised.

The facilitators may, at any time, decide to exclude you from participation in a ceremony for any perceived impairment in your physical or psychological health that risks leading to problems for you during the ceremony, or if you do not meet the requirements for participation for any other reason.

Working with Psilocybin is not a substitute for medical, psychiatric, or psychotherapeutic treatment, but may complement a therapeutic process and facilitate personal development. If you are currently receiving treatment of any kind or taking any medication, you must provide the full details of your situation prior to booking a retreat or private experience. If you agree to participate in a retreat or private experience with A Whole New High, you will be required to complete a medical form and questionnaire. You must answer all questions honestly and disclose any relevant personal information about your health.

By accepting these Terms and Conditions, you also agree to the following Declaration, wherein "I" refers to "You", the participant in the retreat. You will be required to sign a copy of the following Declaration and Terms and Conditions upon arrival at a retreat or session with A Whole New High.

If the Participant does not adhere to these Terms and Conditions as well as all restrictions required by Consciousness Rising, the Organiser will not be held liable for the consequences (which can be severe psychological and energetic damage), and reserves the right to expel the Participant without prior notice, responsibility for a refund, or providing accommodation outside of the retreat.
15. If the Participant is found to possess prescription drugs that have not been approved by the Organiser prior to their arrival, street drugs, or alcohol, the Organiser reserves the right to deny them entry to the retreat or expel them from the retreat without prior notice, responsibility for a refund, or providing accommodation outside.
16. The Organiser is not liable for the injury of any Participant that may occur during or after the retreat. By participating in a retreat of A Whole New High and accepting this Agreement, the Participant expresses full understanding of and responsibility for the risks that they may encounter during a retreat. The Participant absolves A Whole New High, its owners, and employees of said responsibility. Any legal action taken against A Whole New High will only take place in Netherlands under Dutch Law.

Tests or information designed to support a diagnosis, prescription, or administration in reference to number 1.
25. Consciousness Rising will not be held liable for the non-fulfillment or faulty fulfillment of the obligations assumed in the relation established with the guests, in the exact measure where they result from the occurrence of extraordinary or unpredictable situations, external to the will of the contracting parties and that cannot be controlled by them, such as war (declared or undeclared), riots, civil insurrection, natural catastrophes, general nationwide or international strikes, fire, floods, explosions, threats or terrorist acts, epidemics and other situations beyond the organisations control which prevent or hinder the fulfillment of the obligations assumed. In case of occurrence of any of the aforementioned situations, Consciousness Rising will immediately inform the guest of the impediment and will look for a consensual solution.
